Week 9

What do I want to learn or understand better?
As this is the last week before the presentation of our projects next monday, what I want to learn now is not about programming but more about the administrative and documenting parts of the project. One thing I want to get better at is finding out and responding to questions we receive during our presentation. Furthermore, I want to better learn how to write our final report/final team reflection well.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?
Now it is mostly the administrative and documenting part left of the course. What I can help with here is my ability and knowledge about writing reports and reflections. I can also learn the other team members more about different systems and ideas behind different features of our website to be better prepared for the presentation on monday.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?
Firstly, I attended all our planned meetings this week. In the first meeting of the week I also helped plan out the week such as when we should meet, how we should prioritize our final user stories and how our presentation will look. I also continuously updated our Trello board as the process on the project was made.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?
This week there were not a lot of contributions with code. There were some but mostly small fixes and additions. My biggest contribution this week was on the presentation where I helped with recording the demo and presentation that will be shown on monday next week.
